Discover What You are Made of

Your Future Awaits

Founded as a private prep school in Brooklyn in 1863, Adelphi is now Long Island's oldest private coeducational university. Today, Adelphi serves nearly 8,000 students at its beautiful main campus in Garden City, New York, just 31 miles from Manhattan and its countless cultural and internship opportunities.

Ranked #166 National University by U.S. News & World Report and one of the top 20 safest universities by Niche.com, Adelphi offers exceptional programs in liberal arts and sciences and professional training, with particular strength in its "Core Four"—arts and humanities, STEM and social sciences, business and education, and health and wellness.

Adelphi is dedicated to transforming students' lives through small classes, hands-on learning, and innovative ways to support student success. More than 115,000 Adelphi graduates have gained the skills to thrive professionally as active and caring citizens, making their mark on the University, their communities and the world.

PREPARING YOU FOR SUCCESS

Adelphi alumnus Joseph DiLallo saw his wildest dreams come true just two years after graduating when he landed a job as a software engineer at Google, one of the biggest and most recognizable tech companies in the world.

“Everything you hear about Google is true,” he says. The New York office has everything from nap pods to game rooms and free meals. While the amenities are great, Joe says his favorite part of working for Google is the culture of collaborative brilliance.

Joseph credits his Adelphi experience with laying the foundation that enabled him to build his successful career: “I feel like I got a really good grasp of the basics at Adelphi. And that’s what really matters in my field. After graduating from Adelphi, I just enjoyed programming and knew I wanted to do it professionally. I ended up at Google more quickly than I ever thought I would.”

Join a Community of Excellence

From Adelphi to Amazon

Abhijeet Muzumdar, M.B.A. '04, heads corporate development and investments, as well as mergers and acquisitions at Amazon India. He credits much of his professional success to Adelphi. Not only did the university give him the academic grounding he needed to stay ahead of the curve, but also helped him make the leap from student to executive. From the undergraduate to the graduate level, Adelphi creates a platform for all students to achieve success in their future career paths.

“Coming from Adelphi, I would say my finance degree really helped me to think through how Amazon should be built, how to build a team and how to build a good company culture.”

Prepare for Success

LIVE, LEARN & GROW

The Undergraduate Accelerator course Live, Learn & Grow reviews the skills and competencies necessary for first-year students' transition into the university and prepares them for global citizenship. Students learn how to develop effective study skills, understand the university core curriculum and explore major and career choices.

The course also teaches personal skills, such as time management, finances, health and wellness, developing social relationships and making the most of the diversity of our campuses and communities.

Global Networking Opportunities

Ayaan, an M.B.A. Management student from India, had the amazing opportunity to work on a project assigned from the president of the company. He was part of a team that worked to develop a new app for the company that helped to centralize communications across office locations. He even had the chance to travel to St. Louis for an annual conference. At the conference, he got to network with people from “different companies—from Coca-Cola, L’Oréal, Pfizer and many more.”

“I had the privilege of interning at a non-profit organization over the summer and it was located on Wall Street, which is like a dream come true to work there.” —Ayaan Pasha, India
